For the first few years of production, this Taiwanese saxophone came fully assembled. For several years now L.A. Sax has been buying the components and assembling them in the U.S. The model which sells most often is an "All Gold Lacquer". The second most popular model is "Impact Black Metallic", and the third highest seller is the "Diamond White Metallic". L.A. Sax boasts 22 standard finishes and will customize your sax finish to order. They also market trumpets, flugelhorns, trombones, and pocket trumpets.
